Kennedy Reveals Russia's Release of Two U.S. Airmen

Fliers Already Winging Home; Held 7 Months

President Declares He Is Continuing Ban on U2 Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced with dramatic impact Wednesday night that the Soviet Union has freed two crewmen of a U.S. reconnaissance plane the Soviets shot down over Arctic waters last July 1.

Kennedy calmly made the electrifying disclosure at his first news conference as President. He also announced he was continuing the ban on U.S. espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Hails Release of Airmen

Kennedy hailed release of the airmen as amounting to removal of "a serious obstacle to improvement of Soviet-American relations."

The Soviet government called it a reflection of a serious desire to open a new stage in relations — gravely strained since last spring — between the two powers.

Kennedy said in response to questions that this country made no concessions to the Kremlin to win release of the fliers — Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., and Capt. John R. McKone of Topeka, Kan.

The President reported the men were turned loose at 2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday and were en route back to the United States. They arrived by plane in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, three hours after Kennedy's announcement.

Held Captive Seven Months

The fliers, held captive by the Soviets for almost seven months, were in Amsterdam only briefly and then took off for America. Indications were they would arrive in Washington about 4 p.m. today. Their joyous wives were being flown here for a reunion.

At his news conference, broadcast nationwide on live television and radio, Kennedy was not asked whether the United States or the Soviet Union had taken the initiative toward release of the fliers whose downed plane was an Air Force RB47. And the President did not reply directly to a question on whether the release resulted from some action he took.

After the conference there were conflicting versions.

An official in close touch with Kennedy reported that Soviet Premier Khrushchev first brought up the matter when he called U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson to the Kremlin last Saturday.

At the State Department, however, top officials said they understood that Thompson — acting on instructions from Kennedy —

Passengers Enjoying Cruise

U.S. Plane Shadows Captive Ship Racing Toward W. Africa

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Shadowed by a U.S. Navy patrol plane, the captive liner Santa Maria raced toward West Africa today. U.S. destroyers set out to intercept the fugitive ship but President Kennedy said American officers had not been ordered to board her.

Portuguese rebel leader Henrique Galvao, commanding the seized liner as "occupied" Portuguese territory in his revolt launched on the high seas, boldly announced his destination as Angola, the ancient Portuguese colony on the coast of southwest Africa.

But this could be a ruse to mislead interceptors. The Santa Maria—at last report half way between Puerto Rico and West Africa and heading on a southeasterly course—still was in a position to swing back toward South America.

Refused to Turn Around

Galvao, in a radio talk with the U.S. Naval pilot who tracked him down, refused to turn around and go to San Juan and bluntly told him: "Destination Angola."

But he added: "Will accept conference on board Santa Maria with U.S. authorities or any other than Portuguese or Spanish (Salazar's close ally)."

The 66-year-old rebel leader, a former army captain and leading Portuguese writer, told the Navy pilot, Lt. (j.g.) Daniel L. Krauss, he wanted to "discharge passengers unharmed—earliest." He has aboard 600 passengers, including 38 Americans, but messages from the Americans to their families indicated they were enjoying their unexpectedly extended cruise.

Maritime experts calculated that, on its last reported course, the 20,906-ton Santa Maria could make the African coast sometime Sunday, steaming at about 480 miles a day. The ship reportedly has plenty of fuel and food to sail even farther.

Denounces Galvao's Band

The Salazar government, denouncing Galvao's band as pirates, enlisted the aid of the United States, Britain and other NATO allies in the hunt after the cruise ship was taken over in the Caribbean early Sunday morning by an armed band who sneaked aboard in Venezuela and Curacao disguised as passengers.

But the United States, though sending warships and planes to keep watch on the ship, backed away from earlier statements by naval spokesmen that the Santa Maria would be boarded and taken in U.S. charge and her captors treated as pirates.

President Kennedy told a Washington news conference Wednesday night that the U.S. Navy "has not been given instructions to conduct boarding operations," but only to accompany the liner.

"There are Americans involved and their lives are involved," he said, adding that the United States was also concerned because the Santa Maria belonged to a friendly nation.

Concerned About Passengers

Cmdr. Charles Rainey, spokesman at the Navy search headquarters in San Juan, said the Navy's "prime consideration now is the safety and welfare of the crew and passengers." As to future action, search officials would only say that they awaited orders from a higher level. The idea appeared to be to get a Navy surface ship in range of the liner, then get orders from Washington depending on the situation.

After Krauss, flying a P2V Neptune, located the Santa Maria, the Navy made arrangements to keep the fugitive ship under constant surveillance. A Brazil-based, long range Constellation was sent out with orders to "track and report position" of the liner.

The U.S. destroyers Damato and Wilson and the British frigate Rothesay were sidelined for refueling after fruitlessly chasing the Santa Maria through the Caribbean.

But two U.S. destroyers on a goodwill tour of West African ports—the Vogelgesang and Gearing—were ordered out to intercept the runaway and take her.

A report from Trinidad said the high-speed nuclear submarine Seawolf and the fleet tanker Caneiro also had been ordered to overtake the Santa Maria.

Defenses Are Alerted

Defenses were alerted in Portugal's Cape Verde Islands, off the African coast, and in Angola by Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, the dictator Galvao and his men have declared "war" on. It was obvious they feared the rebel band would try to spark a rebellion.

FBI Nabs Bank Holdup Suspect Canton Man Caught At Akron Airport

CLEVELAND (AP)—Instead of boarding the SS United States for a leisurely trip to Europe, Mike John Koury today will be making an appearance before a United States commissioner to answer a charge of bank robbery.

FBI agents armed with a warrant charging the 43-year-old Canton man with the $41,510 holdup of a Wooster bank on April 23, 1959, intercepted Koury at the Akron Canton Airport Wednesday night as he asked for a flight reservation in the name of "J. John."

A United Air Lines official said there "wasn't really any excitement. But a lot of people in the lobby got shook up when these five men moved in on John Koury and got his hands up in the air."

Koury was to fly to New York Wednesday night to board the luxury liner, scheduled to sail today.

The FBI brought him here to appear before Commissioner Herbert A. Horn on a charge of robbing the Highland Park Shopping Center branch of the Commercial Banking & Trust Co.

The bank, at the north edge of Wooster on Ohio 3, was robbed by two men described as swarthy and well dressed. Armed with snub-nosed revolvers, the two herded Richard Tracey, manager of the branch, and a teller into a back room. They looted a vault and walked out with a paper bag full of money.

Jaycees Fete Bosses, Honor George Ehrhart

George Ehrhart has received the honor of becoming a member of the Senate of Junior Chamber of Commerce International, with the presentation being made Wednesday at the local Junior Chamber of Commerce annual Bosses Night dinner meeting in the Elks Home.

Ehrhart, now serving as parliamentarian, is a past president of the chapter, past member of the board of directors, and is a past state director.

He is the 2,377th person in the world upon whom the title, JCI Senator, has been conferred. The award was presented to Ehrhart in recognition of his outstanding service to his community and contribution to Junior Chamber International, which is devoted to "Leadership Training Through Community Service."

Speaker of the evening was Judge Earl R. Hoover, common pleas court, Cuyahoga Falls. He talked on the subject, "So You Think Politics is the Bunk."

Judge Hoover declared "I don't say politics is perfect, but the system is good and we should be thankful. It's like anything that's good—like your family, like your church—good, but it can be better if all who receive benefits will accept their fair share of the responsibility."

"To make politics better, know your candidates and the issues," he continued.

Couple Treated Following Collision

Dale J. Coffman, 22, and his wife, Eileen, 21, of 875 Jennings Ave., were treated at the Central Clinic for neck and back injuries received at 1:34 p.m. Wednesday when their car collided with an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. truck on West State St. near Jennings Ave.

The driver of the truck, Robert Richard Steele, 39, of 1781 Ridge-wood Dr., escaped injury but he was cited by police for failure to stop in an assured clear distance. He forfeited a $10 bond in Mayor Dean Crammer's court.

Police said Steele was driving west on W. State St. and did not see the Coffman car slowing down to make a left turn into an alley. Steele applied his brakes but skidded into the car, causing considerable damage to both vehicles.

Military Craft Believed Down In Atlantic

Plane Was Bound For Newfoundland; Search Under Way

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP)—A U.S. military plane with 23 persons on board was believed down in the Atlantic today off the southeast coast of Newfoundland.

A report relayed by the U.S. Coast Guard said a U.S. Navy plane reported seeing an explosion 28 miles south of here shortly before the missing plane was due to arrive at 6:15 a.m.

Canadian search and rescue headquarters at Torbay, Nfld., said they believe the explosion was more likely a flare.

The plane, a C118 four-engine military transport version of the DC6, was on a flight from the Azores. It was last reported at 2:30 a.m. when it checked in with the control tower at Gander, Nfld. It was then 455 miles east of Argentinia.

It failed to report an hour later as scheduled. Radio checks with other planes and ships in the area failed to locate it.

The plane had enough fuel to last until 10:30 a.m.

It was on a flight from Port Lyautey, Morocco, to Norfolk, Va., with stops scheduled in the Azores and at Argentinia.

At McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., a spokesman said the missing plane had 23 persons aboard—10 U.S. Navy crewmen and 13 passengers.

Sargus, Carney Would Extend Jobless Pay

By DUANE E. CROFT

Salem News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS — State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville and Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Youngstown, joined four other Democrats Wednesday afternoon in introducing two bills to provide both emergency and permanent extensions of the jobless pay period to 39 weeks.

The bill to extend the payments from the present 26 weeks immediately is the same one that was defeated during the special legislative session last November, a spokesman for the group said.

He added that the measure was reintroduced because the need for quick action continues to grow.

The measure to provide the permanent extension of 13 weeks, the spokesman added, could be used as the basis for a longer, more thorough study of the unemployment compensation program.

The Republican leadership has been accused by spokesmen for the AFL-CIO of stalling action on the jobless pay issue. But the GOP leaders have said they want to take a good look at the whole program and its financing before rushing into hasty action.

A flood of bills on various aspects of the program have been offered in the house, but the two measures offered by Carney and Sargus are the first in the senate. The house industry and labor committee has been holding hearings on three of the bills in that chamber preparatory to a general rewriting of the legislation.

Sargus also introduced a bill to

Suspect Gives Up on Bank Robbery Count

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lee James Perry 33, Cincinnati, today surrendered to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in connection with the $3,765 holdup of the Visitation Valley Branch of the Bank of America, San Francisco, on Dec. 15, 1960. He had only $60 in his pockets.

Mrs. Perry accompanied her husband to the FBI headquarters in Cincinnati. Perry was to appear before a U. S. Commissioner later in the day.

Ed Mason, special agent in charge of the FBI in Cincinnati, said Perry admitted the holdup. He said Perry handed a woman teller a note demanding all the money she had, and kept a hand in a pocket in a threatening manner.

Mason said investigation disclosed that Perry unemployed and the father of five children, went to San Francisco last November to visit his mother, Mrs. Sarah Johnston. The F. B. I. turned to him on a tip.

'Slim Look' Is Emphasized

Dior Collection May Become Big Style Hit

PARIS (AP) — Designer Marc Bohan stripped the spinach from fashion today in a lady-like collection for Dior that may well prove the biggest style hit since the "new look."

What Bohan names the "slim look" is a silhouette with a long waistless bodice to the top of the hip, with lightly flared skirts often showing a bit of the kneecap.

Enthusiastic applause throughout the show made it clear that Bohan has a smash hit for his debut as a replacement for Yves Matthieu Saint-Laurent.

If the bosom and the waist are bypassed in the "slim look," hips are hugged and legs emphasized. The most astonishing thing about the show was that it contained not a single eccentricity.

The influence of the 20s is strongest in evening wear, for Bohan makes dozens of waistless beaded sheaths, all with hip belts or tight fitting at the hip.

Whatever happens to Saint-Laurent, who suffered a nervous breakdown during a brief spell of military service, Marc Bohan made his name in fashion this morning. Nobody believes Dior will willingly let him go now.

Women should love his unfurling, easy to wear, easy-to-walk-in clothes, which for once are as pretty as they are elegant. A fair-

First Live-Televised Session

Responsibilities Stamp JFK's Manner In News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been in office only six days but the crushing problems and mighty responsibilities of it already have stamped him in manner and appearance. He was a deeply serious man Wednesday in his first presidential news conference. He listened intently, with total concentration, to the questions. Sometimes, he looked a little weary. Once or twice a slight frown notched his forehead between his eyes. He spoke more slowly than usual, carefully choosing his words. He smiled only once—whereas, before, a certain jaunty and sparkling humor invariably appeared when he met the correspondents. This first news conference also was history's first live-televised presidential question and answer session. (President Eisenhower held one in San Francisco prior to the 1956 Republican convention, but it was about politics, not the problems of government.) This fact, however, probably did not account for the deeply thoughtful almost preoccupied air that Kennedy wore. He had appeared on TV many times, as a senator and a candidate, and deftly fielded questions from reporters. The camera never appeared to awe him. Nor did he give any sign that he was conscious of a vast TV audience watching him and the radio audience listening to the broadcast from the auditorium in the State Department. He looked, if anything, even more solemn during the 36½ minutes of the conference than he looked last Friday noon when he took the oath of office. Kennedy appeared only once to have missed part of a question. He quickly demonstrated three qualities. First, a dramatic sense of timing. He opened the conference with some announcements. But he put the biggest news last, the news that the Soviet Union had released two American flyers who were shot down in the RB-47 plane and imprisoned since last July 1. A gasp ran around the room. Second, the unmistakable ring of authority. It rang in his voice especially when he said, "I have ordered that they (the U-2 reconnaissance plane flights over the Soviet Union) not be resumed." And it came again, firmly, when he commented on his first executive order to send more food to depressed areas. Third, the quick, nimble mind. Usually, while a reporter was still stating his question, Kennedy began nodding slightly. He grasped the intent of a question and had his answer ready immediately. He seldom had to reach for a word.

Judge Allows Week To Settle Land Issue

LISBON—Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday gave the State Highway Department and Sam Caplan, owner of a junk yard in East Liverpool, another week to settle their differences on land needed to begin construction of new Rt. 30 in East Liverpool. On Dec. 19 the state offered Caplan $9,000 for the necessary two parcels, totaling one half acre. Caplan refused the offer.

CONSTRUCTION ON SCHEDULE

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—The "heart" of the nuclear plant under construction on the Great Miami River here, a 28-foot carbon steel reactor vessel, has arrived and the contractor says construction of the plant is on schedule despite bad weather. The vessel, to contain the reactor core, was fabricated by a California firm. Steam generated by the $7 million plant will be piped to the Piqua municipal power plant for distribution.

The principal industries of Surinam — formerly Dutch Guiana — are mining, agriculture and lumbering.

DiSalle's Budget Explained At Joint Committee Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Controlling Republicans in the Ohio legislature got a scholarly explanation Wednesday night of the Democratic governor's unbalanced budget—and a promise that it would be balanced, on request. The explanation and the promise came from Finance Director James H. Maloon. He testified for almost two hours in an extraordinary joint session of the Senate and House finance committees inquiring into DiSalle's submission of a budget out of balance to the tune of $75 million.

Satisfied With Estimate Whether Republicans now will be willing to introduce DiSalle's $2.1 billion appropriation bill has not yet been decided, but they apparently are satisfied that Maloon's estimates of the state's income in the two-year period beginning next July 1 are as accurate as humanly possible this far in advance. If Republicans don't decide quickly, however, to introduce Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's big money bill, the Democrats likely will introduce the bill themselves.

The major money bill of the session has been in the hands of House Finance Committee Chairman Ralph Fisher, R-Wayne, for a week. Normally, he would be the one to introduce the bill because he is finance chairman. But he has balked at introducing it because Republican leaders feel DiSalle has not fulfilled the legal requirement of presenting to the legislature a complete financial plan for the next two years. Based on Budget Statement

The GOP attitude is based, primarily, on DiSalle's budget message statement that he did not intend to suggest any new taxes to meet his increased spending proposals. Maloon's promise that he would offer amendments to cut the DiSalle budget down to anticipated revenues came under questioning by House Speaker Roger Cloud. Maloon indicated he had not planned to offer the budget-slashing amendments unless requested to do so by the GOP leaders. The finance director also indicated he could give majority Republicans an informal list of proposed capital improvements needed during the next two years very quickly. He estimates needed state buildings for the next biennium at $75 million. That amount, in addition to the present appropriations bill imbalance of $75 million, would throw the financial picture just about an even $150 million out of balance. No State Building

Democratic Rep. G. D. Tablack of Youngstown, House Finance Committee chairman two years ago, asserted that the income and spending figures for the next two years indicate there will be no state building at all unless the Republicans provide more revenue through taxes. The financial battle took the center of the legislative stage, but the lawmakers attended to a few other matters. The Senate adopted its rules for the session without an expected battle from minority Democrats. And Sen. Ross Peppie, R-Allen, was defeated again in his battle to limit the number of copies of the Ohio Revised Code purchased for senators. Peppie first raised the point in the 1951 session. Aside from that legislators offered proposals to: Extend Jobless Benefits Extend unemployment benefits beyond the present 26-week limit. A number of similar proposals already are under consideration. Authorize the Wildlife Council to regulate commercial fishing in the Lake Erie district. Equalize fees at branches with those of parent state universities. Repeal the constitutional authority of the governor to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons. Provide for election of national convention delegates by states rather than require voters to cast their ballots for individuals. Require photographs on driver licenses. Request the Legislative Service Commission to study the feasibility of a tax abatement program to assist in urban renewal and blight-prevention programs. Provide for a second common pleas judge in Clermont County. Amend constitution to bar imbeciles, incompetents and feebleminded from voting.

SENTENCED TO PRISON

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Gerald F. Dinckle, 21, and his brother Ronald Lee, 19, of Ashtabula were sentenced to 1-to-15 year terms at Ohio Penitentiary in connection with an armed robbery at a bank in Lake Shore Park Jan. 12. The two pleaded guilty Wednesday before Common Pleas Judge Roland Pontius to charges of assault with intent to rob.

CONSTRUCTION POSTPONED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways announced that construction of the 5.6-mile Granville bypass in Licking County, for which bids were to be asked early this year, has been postponed until new federal funds are available, probably this summer. The cost of the four-lane, limited access bypass on Ohio 16 and 161 is estimated at about $6 million.

Leetonia Pupils Enjoy New Science Lab

Science students at Leetonia High School are now using the facilities of a completely new laboratory.

Inadequate equipment prompted the Board of Education to finance such an improvement program, with the expenses shared jointly by the Board and federal funds obtained through the National Defense Education Act.

The remodeling project cost $21,681 and includes a chemistry-physic and general science suite.

Remodeling of the laboratory amounted to $4,398. Expenditures for equipment totaled $17,283 and included the following: Physics and chemistry equipment, chemistry-physic desks, laboratory furniture, science tachistoscope, portable science tables and loose chemicals.

Miss Florence Wilhelm, William Mancini and Mr. Trombitas are in charge of the science program at the Leetonia school.

The public will have an opportunity to view the new science room when a science fair is held during the first week of April.

Potteries Need Import Curbs

If there's one thing, besides orders, that district potteries need, it is protection from foreign imports.

The potteries, the Salem China Company included, were hurt by the influx of imported goods long before Detroit car manufacturers realized that the flood of compact cars from abroad were hurting their business.

Columbiana County's two state representatives at Columbus, Clarence Wetzel and Warren Bettis, are natives of this pottery-producing region and are conscious of the manufacturers' plight. That is why they introduced a resolution in the Ohio Legislature Tuesday urging the United States Congress to impose tariff regulations that would better control pottery imports.

Their proposition suggests quotas based on the average importations for the last 10 years from each foreign country. This may not be the full answer to a perplexing problem but it sounds logical.

It is quite obvious that Congress needs to review the tariff situation to protect American industries and we hope that the Ohio General Assembly will see fit to adopt the resolution submitted by Reps. Wetzel and Bettis.

There Will Be a Kennedy Touch

To this day, Winston Churchill salutes admirers with his famous V for Victory sign. Dwight Eisenhower will greet crowds as long as he can lift his arms with that famous two-arm salute.

All men in high public position develop behavior trademarks along with the characteristics that distinguish them from others who are doing the same job. Two of John F. Kennedy's probably characteristics in the presidency are emerging.

His behavior trademark will be an air of shyness dispelled by a friendly grin that belies the shyness. And the characteristic likely to distinguish him from others doing public work seems likely to be thoroughness of preparation.

The presidency from now on is probably going to have the benefit for the first time of completely professional handling. Mr. Kennedy has been preparing himself for the job systematically. It is obvious that everything which could be planned in advance was planned and that the planning has been followed. It is apparent that this is the Kennedy method.

He is a professional political careerist. Dwight Eisenhower was not a political careerist. Harry Truman was, but not in the sense that Mr. Kennedy is. Franklin Roosevelt was a careerist, it can be agreed, but it never could be agreed that he had a professional touch in administration.

Tell Us What We Need to Know

President Kennedy will speak to Congress Monday on the state of the Union, as he sees it. It will not be as reassuring as former President Eisenhower's message.

The Kennedy administration is beginning. The Eisenhower administration was ending when its chief spokesman made his appraisal of the state of the Union.

In the beginning, every administration is committed to make changes; that is the two-party system of government. The "ins" are voted out and the "outs" are voted in because voters had grown dissatisfied. That's the two-party system of politics.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is sensitive to politics. He is sensitive to the practicalities of the two-party system. He understands the significance of his narrow margin of victory. Voters were not strongly dissatisfied with the "ins" last Nov. 8. They were ready to change administrations; that had been prescribed by law. But as between the program offered by Mr. Kennedy and the Democrats and the program offered by Richard Nixon and the Republicans they saw no material difference.

They gave the Kennedy-Johnson ticket no mandate to sweep Washington with a new broom. The outcome of the election was a standoff. The voting was so close that in practical politics it amounted to a tie.

This is the problem the new President must deal with as he begins to exert his influence over public opinion and Congress. He must build the popular backing he will need to put a program into motion, and he must build it with the confidence of many Americans who did not vote for him last November. Otherwise, he would be asking the impossible of representatives and senators, who are as politically sensitive as he is.

It goes without saying that he has the benefit of great good feeling at the outset of his duties. He has inspired this with his conduct and his choice of a Cabinet whose members command strong public confidence.

If he finds the right ideas and the right words to turn this good will to his political account he can make the country forget the closeness of the election. The only error he could make would be to ignore the fact he was given a mandate for moderation, especially in the matter of public spending.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY would belie all the confidence placed in him as the winner of last November's close vote if he shocked his countrymen and Congress with a wild spending program.

If he tells us what we need to know next Monday it will be to the effect that he has as much confidence in us as we must continue to have in him if the country is to come out of the recession without burning down the U.S. Treasury to make jobs for the unemployed.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

When they were quite dissatisfied
They had a missionary tried.
Such steps appeased them speedily
And left them feeling fully free
But now they join the forward-looking
And ask with eagerness "What's cooking?"

A lovely scene, a song, a dance
Was once sufficient to entrance;
A kettle and a fire hot
Sufficed them in a trouble-spot;
Oh, happiness was theirs to spare
Until they heard of things elsewhere;
Now to world headaches they declare
"A Fiji man must have his share."

The American people don't even know the Spanish-American War ever happened. We have to explain to visitors what this ship did, says a naval officer in charge of Cruiser Olympia, Admiral Dewey's flagship at the Battle of Manila Bay, now moored to a Philadelphia pier, manned by a few old sailors and pretty well ignored. Maybe so, but this ship glows in this writer's earliest boyhood memories. For one thing pictures of the Olympia came with cigarettes, and kids collected them through their fathers or big brothers. The pictures included other ships in the Great White Fleet and of Dewey, Bob Evans and Admiral Sampson and Schley, the last two famed for wiping out the Spanish fleet at Santiago Bay. They kindled patriotism among the small fry.

English police report a man leaving an empty quart of whiskey in same phone booth every night for a year and suspect he was a tired businessman who, between the office and home, needed fortification. Possibly he was a confirmed lone drinker, enjoying a drink only in deep privacy and a fellow who liked to hear bells ringing before he put in any call. We can fancy him ultimately telling central: "This phone booth occupant is out of order. Keep dialing this bottle but don't get anybody."

Well, Gentlemen, Where Shall We Start?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Not Confined to the Presidency

President Kennedy has set up a special commission to study conflict of interest in the executive agencies of the government. This is a commendable action.

But the real weakness in government is not being touched and apparently cannot be under the instructions given the new commission.

Basically, the problem of conflict of interest concerns improper influences exerted in government upon all officials, from the president down, who have the power to make decisions that benefit or injure a citizen or groups of individuals in business.

No law now on the statute books can really prevent a conflict of interest from being applied by an official of the government.

Though the latter may have divested himself of his ownership of stocks in a private company, he cannot as readily divest himself of his friendships either inside or outside the business or labor union or law firm in which he once worked.

The fear of wrongdoing which is implied in the requirement that Cabinet officers sell their stocks is not removed by such a procedure. There is no way by which a Cabinet officer can be required to compel his relatives to sell stock in companies which could be benefited by governmental action—as, for instance, in defense contracts.

The assumption behind the conflict of interest laws and regulations is that no official can be trusted to be governed by his conscience but must be deprived of his stock holdings—even at a loss—so as to satisfy popular suspicion or fear that he may not be able to resist temptation.

This gets into the matter of conscience and fundamental honesty. Maybe a panel of churchmen is needed to define the limitations that might be self-imposed or at least exhibited to public view as affecting the kind of government that can be expected under our present system of party politics.

Isn't it a conflict of interest when a man is elected to high office and gives an appointment to public office as a reward for services rendered in the last campaign? Isn't this a conflict between the public interest and the private interest?

AN ARMY of persons who served in the last campaign have already asked or will be seeking rewards for services rendered. This has sometimes been called patronage, and it is regrettable that somehow there has developed in Washington a rationalized attitude that "politics is politics."

In this, at least, there is no reluctance but eagerness to turn the clock back and to frown upon change. It was during the administration of President Andrew Jackson when the slogan was proclaimed that "to the victor belong the spoils."

Already, for several important appointments announced by the Kennedy administration, the newspapers have told of the background of some of the appointees—early friendships or political service.

This is not offset by the fact that some appointments have been made for merit and in disregard of politics. The hard truth is that there exists a feeling that the President may appoint on the basis of political service to him and not necessarily on the basis of finding the person best qualified.

Such a conflict of interest is not confined to the presidency. It exists in Congress, where the members feel that they must fulfill what are often called political obligations.

A constituent who has contributed money to a campaign asks a favor. Sometimes it is a legitimate request—that the member of Congress intercede to secure justice for the citizen.

SOMETIMES it is implied that he must receive a special favor. This is what happens much of the time when executive agencies are approached by members of Congress.

So, since there is to be a study of conflict of interest, it would be well if the ethics of everybody in all branches of government were re-defined and through the power of publicity, if not by law, the people were given some standards by which to judge whether the interests of the whole nation are being safeguarded or only the interests of those who buy their way into public office through campaign contributions or campaign service.

These persons would not really be appointed were it not for the unfortunate acquiescence of our elected officials—and of large segments of the public—in what is euphemistically called political obligations.

This, in reality, is the conflict of interest issue that calls for diagnosis and cure.

Not Confined to the Presidency

President Kennedy has set up a special commission to study conflict of interest in the executive agencies of the government. This is a commendable action.

But the real weakness in government is not being touched and apparently cannot be under the instructions given the new commission.

Basically, the problem of conflict of interest concerns improper influences exerted in government upon all officials, from the president down, who have the power to make decisions that benefit or injure a citizen or groups of individuals in business.

No law now on the statute books can really prevent a conflict of interest from being applied by an official of the government.

Though the latter may have divested himself of his ownership of stocks in a private company, he cannot as readily divest himself of his friendships either inside or outside the business or labor union or law firm in which he once worked.

The fear of wrongdoing which is implied in the requirement that Cabinet officers sell their stocks is not removed by such a procedure. There is no way by which a Cabinet officer can be required to compel his relatives to sell stock in companies which could be benefited by governmental action—as, for instance, in defense contracts.

The assumption behind the conflict of interest laws and regulations is that no official can be trusted to be governed by his conscience but must be deprived of his stock holdings—even at a loss—so as to satisfy popular suspicion or fear that he may not be able to resist temptation.

This gets into the matter of conscience and fundamental honesty. Maybe a panel of churchmen is needed to define the limitations that might be self-imposed or at least exhibited to public view as affecting the kind of government that can be expected under our present system of party politics.

Isn't it a conflict of interest when a man is elected to high office and gives an appointment to public office as a reward for services rendered in the last campaign? Isn't this a conflict between the public interest and the private interest?

AN ARMY of persons who served in the last campaign have already asked or will be seeking rewards for services rendered. This has sometimes been called patronage, and it is regrettable that somehow there has developed in Washington a rationalized attitude that "politics is politics."

In this, at least, there is no reluctance but eagerness to turn the clock back and to frown upon change. It was during the administration of President Andrew Jackson when the slogan was proclaimed that "to the victor belong the spoils."

Already, for several important appointments announced by the Kennedy administration, the newspapers have told of the background of some of the appointees—early friendships or political service.

This is not offset by the fact that some appointments have been made for merit and in disregard of politics. The hard truth is that there exists a feeling that the President may appoint on the basis of political service to him and not necessarily on the basis of finding the person best qualified.

Such a conflict of interest is not confined to the presidency. It exists in Congress, where the members feel that they must fulfill what are often called political obligations.

A constituent who has contributed money to a campaign asks a favor. Sometimes it is a legitimate request—that the member of Congress intercede to secure justice for the citizen.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Water Retention May Cause Pains, Fear

"I am 38 years old," writes Faithful Reader, "and, although my periods are regular, I sense a soreness in my breasts and a pain in my lower right side about two weeks before they begin."

"I have had several physical examinations but the doctors tell me they don't find anything wrong. Recently the discomfort seems to be worse. Could this mean that I'm developing cancer of the breasts or womb?"

I think I can assure you, sight unseen, that what you describe bears no relationship to cancer anywhere in the body.

Indeed since you say elsewhere in your letter that you have had this complaint for several years, you may be sure you haven't cancer for, if you did, you'd probably not be here to ask the question.

YOUR DIFFICULTIES are almost surely due to a common disturbance that occurs midway between periods. When, as in your case, the pain is located in the lower right side of the abdomen, it resembles an acute attack of appendicitis so closely that an operation may be required before a definite diagnosis can be established.

You can help your doctor relieve you of this recurrent discomfort by observing your weight, each morning, before you take breakfast. Since the condition is due to retention of water in your body tissues, you will probably note a sudden gain of two to five pounds before you feel any distress.

NOW IF YOU will make a little chart of your daily weight for a week or two and bring it to your doctor, he will be able to give you one of several pills, now on the market, that will help to flush this water through your kidneys. By taking these pills, called diuretics, just before your expected weight gain, and for three or four days thereafter, you should almost surely obtain relief.

COSTUME LOOK — Polka dot dress with tie string belt, dark top coat with dress matching lining by Aldrich.

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

No news is good news in the fashion forecast for spring.

That loose, relaxed fit, those bare arms and collarless necks, suit and coat costumes, skirt-pants those style trends which were set in '60 are just beginning to jell now.

Thus America's husbands can thank their lucky pocketbooks. For, with a bit of nipping and tucking here and there a woman can keep last year's wardrobe from showing its age.

A survey of New York couture houses indicate these style trends for spring. Check them off with your own attire and see how you fare.

THE SHAPE... You figure subtly in what the designers call a bottle shape. The line in dresses and short-jacketed suits dips gently at the waistline, becomes fuller at the hips and tapers at the knee-length hem.

Nothing clings. The drape of fabric takes shape on you. Waist-

BOLD CAPE COAT — Black and white plaid lightweight coat by Carmel is bias cut with insert sleeves and cowl neckline. Big buttons, such as shown here, are fashion detailing in 61.

Lines are either a little higher or a bit lower than your natural spot. Skirts tuck softly at the waist in front. Blouses fit with ease or puff a bit at belllines. Backs are straight. Jacket and coat backs may dip a little.

SEASON FOR BREEZES... Dresses, and coats, too, are detailed with aerated sleeves and necklines. Wide sleeves, set in, or none at all, collar — bone showing collarless necklines are a part of '61 detailing too. Bare compromise are ring or drawingstring necklines.

SIDE DETAILING... Buttons at the shoulder, marching down the side, side piping, side pleats, of tucks are decorative touches on this and next spring's fashions.

THE CUT... The way patterns are laid on the material determines design in many instances. Plaids and stripes work together at the yoke and sleeve insets for interesting effects. Bias cut skirts, capes and jackets with figure draping interest are other couture tricks for spring.

BELTS... Draw strings, leather shoestring ties, or soft, wide lap-over sashes are a part of the easy-look fashion.

YOUNG IN HEART... Designers who do depart occasionally from collarlessness, such as Norman Norrell, embrace the Peter Pan collar in varying widths, or those middie necklines. These with crisp, pleated or slightly flared, gored skirt are a part of '61's so-called Little Girl look.

COLOR... The shape may be the same in '61 (nearly) but the hue will be different. Purple bows out to pink, any kind of pink from deep raspberry to delicate baby tints.

Big prints in the boldest color combinations ever will be everywhere there's a fashionable woman.

...on overblouses, with slim plain skirts... as cocktail dresses, with florals outlined with sequines, and in coat and dress combinations, with gaudy daisies to match.

THE COSTUME... Increased draping, unpredictable changes in spring temperatures are reasons given for this year's emphasis on the dress with matching coat or jacket. Dress is a basic hue with cold printed coat or jacket... or the dress possesses the splash of color with a solid topper lined with a dress matching fabric.

COATS AND JACKETS... The cape coat with wide short sleeves, cut on a bias and collarless, has as its counterpart straight-lined ones with easy fit, sash belt and slit sides.

Jackets too will be available in a variety of lengths and fullnesses. You will find everything from the long, beltless and shapeless tunic, to waist high straight-line, short sleeved versions.

O YES, CULOTTES... Skirts that part in the middle to become pants were last season's trend shocker. They've been refined, and feminized in this spring's couture line. One house features Turkish type culottes in an evening version of the trend. Side pleats in other lines hide the skirts' dual personalities.

JFK Adopts Task Force's Suggestion on Gold Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special task force on economic problems had to wait only a few hours Wednesday night to see President Kennedy adopt its No. 1 suggestion for curbing the drain on U.S. gold reserves.

Kennedy told his news conference the value of the dollar must be protected and can be protected without restricting the movement of private funds between the United States and the rest of the world.

The task force headed by Allan

Kennedy

took the initiative regarding release of the airman during that same meeting with Khrushchev. Kennedy, wearing a dark blue pin-striped suit, was a completely unruffled master of the situation during the entire 36½-minute of his first meeting with newsmen since he took office last Friday.

Cool and confident, the 43-year-old President volunteered an announcement near the start of the conference regarding freeing of the fliers. That news topped everything else by a clear margin as the questions and answers ranged over a wide field.

The questions brought these replies on these topics:

Spy Flights—The President said he has ordered continuance of the ban on American espionage flights over Soviet territory. The ban was put into effect last May by President Eisenhower after the Khrushchev furore over the U2 episode — an incident which caused collapse of the Paris summit conference and put Soviet-American relations on the skids.

Nuclear Talks — Kennedy also volunteered that his administration has requested "more time to prepare a clear American position" before resumption at Geneva of negotiations on an atomic test ban. The talks among American, Soviet and British officials had been scheduled to start again Feb. 7. Kennedy is seeking a postponement until late March.

Other Messages To Follow

Messages — The President said the State of the Union message he will deliver in person before a joint session of Congress Monday will be followed by others dealing with specific problems. He mentioned two others—one going to the Capitol shortly after the State of the Union document will outline "the steps we think the government could profitably take to provide protection for the unemployed, and also to stimulate the economy." The other, in about two weeks, will tackle the problem of stemming the disturbing flow of gold from the United States.

Dependents Overseas — As for the Eisenhower order cutting back the number of service and civilian family members stationed abroad in a move to reduce the gold flow, Kennedy said he and key aides will decide soon "whether a more satisfactory method of protecting our gold could be secured than providing for the return of Americans serving abroad in the military."

Cuba — "We have no plan at present," said Kennedy, "to resume diplomatic relations with Cuba." He added that his administration is extremely interested in helping to provide a better life for Latin Americans. But he also said—in obvious allusion to the possibility of a Communist takeover of Cuba's Castro regime — that the United States is concerned about any effort to impose "an ideology (in Cuba) which is alien to this hemisphere."

Summit Conference — Kennedy said nothing to slam the door against the possibility of his meeting with Khrushchev. But the President said "there has been no change in my previous statement that there are no plans at the present time" for such a conference. As for whether Khrushchev may come to the United States again in March for another United Nations session, Kennedy said he had seen only newspaper reports on that possibility and preferred not to comment.

High School Problems Aired by Principals

LISBON — A meeting of county high school principals was held Wednesday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Columbiana County school offices in the Courthouse.

The four district principals, Frank Solak of United, Lee Kirkland of Beaver, Thomas Leek of Southern and Urton Anderson of Fairfield-Waterford, attended.

Plans for evaluation of curriculum studies, areas in which curriculum work should proceed and needed textbook adoptions for county schools were the main items of discussion.

Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school consultant and chairman of the group presided.

The February meeting will be the combined session of principals of high schools, elementary principals and executive heads.

ON RADIO PANEL

Atty. Lozier Caplan, president of the Columbiana County Bar Association, will participate in a panel discussion on legal problems over Youngstown radio station WFMJ tonight at 8:05.

Sproul, former president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, met earlier Wednesday with Kennedy and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. The group urged a strong statement by Kennedy that the dollar would not be devalued and that curbs would not be imposed on money movements.

While the 22-page report of the three-member committee emphasized the gold-dollar problem, it also included suggestions for stimulating the economy.

The task force recommended greater federal aid to the unemployed but said massive spending increases were neither necessary nor desirable to combat the business slump. The group indicated it expects only a mild and brief recession.

To bolster the dollar it advocated these new measures:

1. Repeal of tax incentives designed to encourage private American investment in other industrial countries.

2. Reduction of the amount of foreign goods which may be brought into the United States free of duty by tourists returning from overseas. The amount now is $500.

In a statement, Kennedy called the report very useful and said the recommendations merited close attention.

The report was generally conservative in tone and frequently echoed the views and policies of former President Dwight Eisenhower and his secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson.

For example, the task force urged Kennedy to "pursue effectively" steps ordered earlier by Eisenhower in his effort to attack the gold-dollar problem.

The group thus indirectly endorsed Eisenhower's controversial move to gradually reduce the number of military dependents abroad.

Kennedy told his news conference the administration is reviewing the implications of Eisenhower's order. He said the question is whether some less harmful alternative would be equally effective in protecting the dwindling gold supply. He indicated no decision had been made yet.

Dior

ly slim pair of hips is the only thing they require.

When the 34-year-old designer forgot his ladylike look to cut just three necklines that plunged right to the waist, the audience took it as a joke and laughed.

Bohan's typical suit has a trim but unfitted midhip jacket with a loose belt at the top of the hip-line, sometimes on the jacket and sometimes on the lightly flared skirt with sleeveless, bloused-over top.

Slightly longer jackets loosely cupped in behind are cut away to the waistline in front in a gentle curve. Some skirts break away in fluted pleats from midhip.

There is not a nipped waist nor a hobble hem in the show. Bell skirts show up only for cocktail and short formal wear, tacked onto stem-straight bodices that come to the top of the hip.

Colors are the palest pastels—pink, apricot, pistachio and Nile green, yellow, lilac and dusty Wedgewood blue—as well as lots of gray beige, navy, white and black.

The only trimmings on many of his creations are welded or saddle-stitched seams often quartering loose coats in a big X. The same idea is used for tier effects on dresses and suits, and there are some tiered helmets.

Smallish round-head hats give the head a trim line. They are roll-brimmed, round-crowned sailor caps, flower pots or pudding basins, draped raffia or tulle turbans and mop caps.

Gone are the high chignons Dior mannequins used to wear. The new hair style is smoothly brushed and medium short. One side is brushed forward a little on the cheek, the other is worn behind the ear.

County School Group Meets In Columbiana

LISBON — Twenty-nine school board members and clerks and executive directors of Leetonia, East Palestine, Columbiana and Lisbon schools attended a meeting Wednesday evening at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana.

Cornel Monda of Lisbon, school psychologist, L. L. Goard, East Palestine, Daniel Friedberg, Leetonia, and Charles A. Linn, Columbiana, guidance directors, spoke on their programs in the four schools. A question and answer period followed.

Damascus Ruritans To Plan Activities

DAMASCUS — Directors and their wives of the Damascus Ruritan Club will meet in the Methodist church Friday evening to make plans for their goals and projects.

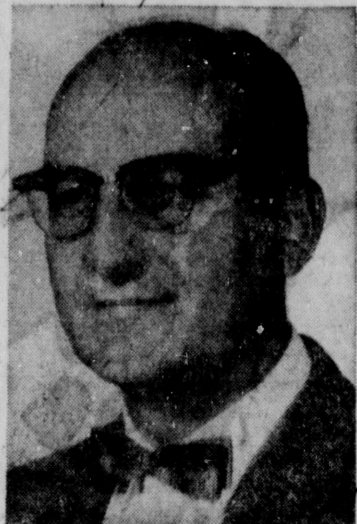

Committees will present a summary.

Wilson Morlan and Alton Bye are delegates from the Damascus Ruritan club to the National Ruritan Convention in Washington, D.C., Jan. 29-31. They will be accompanied by their wives.

School Workshop Instructors

Dr. Clarence Heinke

Harold Shurlow

One hundred and fifty teachers from elementary and secondary schools in Columbiana County will come to Salem Senior High School Friday afternoon for a mathematics workshop.

Consultants for the meeting, which will be devoted exclusively to a presentation of the newer concepts in mathematics philosophy as developed by the studies conducted at Yale, the University of Illinois, Syracuse and also Maryland, will be Dr. Clarence Heinke, professor of mathematics at Capital University, Columbus; Harold Shurlow, a teacher at Eastmoore High School in Columbus; and Dr. Lowry Harding, professor of elementary education at Ohio State University.

6 Persons Held In Insurance Swindle

CLEVELAND (AP)—Four men and two women from Chicago, accused of being part of a group that allegedly has bilked insurance companies of from $25,000 to $50,000 by faking auto accident injuries, were held without charges here today pending further investigation. Police did not identify them.

Inspector Thomas A. Murphy, head of the police detective bureau, said the six were believed to be part of a gang of 25 to 30 men and women operating in Ohio, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and New York.

They were arrested Wednesday night at an insurance office where an attempt was being made to collect for injuries allegedly suffered by one of them, Murphy said.

The inspector said that one or more members of the group would involve their car in a collision with another auto after determining the other owner carried liability insurance. Then they would claim insurance payments for alleged injuries of the type difficult to check medically, such as back pains, he added.

lion in the territories, where unrest has been rumored periodically.

Reports circulated in Lisbon that two of the crewmen of the Santa Maria were in league with the rebels. Salazar's secret police Wednesday questioned officials of the Colonial Navigation Company, owners of the liner.

The Vera Cruz, a sister ship of the Santa Maria owned by the same line, Wednesday night delayed its sailing from Rio de Janeiro. Capt. Ambrose Perreira Ramarelli said the refrigeration system broke down and denied the delay had anything to do with the seizure of the Santa Maria.

The rebels' titular leader, Gen. Humberto Delgado, told Associated Press Correspondent William L. Ryan his Movement for National Independence hopes the seizure of the Santa Maria will touch off a chain reaction against Salazar.

Delgado, an exile in Brazil since he ran unsuccessfully for the Portuguese presidency in 1958, was interviewed in Sao Paulo. Asked if he thought the takeover justified risking the lives of the 600 passengers and 370 crew on the cruise ship, Delgado replied:

"We cannot be governed by feelings of emotion. During the World War planes killed thousands of people at a time. War is war. It's war on Portuguese territory. The ship is ours and it is purely Portuguese business." Delgado said his movement was not a political party, that it stands only for overthrow of Salazar, dictator of Portugal for 33 years, and for elections as soon as possible after that.

Salem elementary schools will be dismissed at noon Friday so that all grade school teachers can attend. Substitutes will relieve math teachers at the Junior High and Senior High for the afternoon so that the secondary schools' classes can continue.

The workshop will start at 2:45, with dinner at 5:30 in the school cafeteria before the evening summary session, it was announced by Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith.

Salem public and St. Paul parochial and all county schools will be represented at the mathematics workshop.

ing records of the candidates and their parties. Become active in politics yourself. Learn the opinions of others about you. Think things over carefully, and then make up your mind. Finally, cast your vote on election day."

Edward Butcher presided at the meeting, extending greetings and remarks to the members and their special guests, Jack Rayment, president of Ohio Jaycees, Judge Hoover, Mayor Dean Cranmer, Walter Null, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Victor Balenger, Chamber executive secretary.

Rev. George Keister, pastor emeritus of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, gave the invocation. Angelo Vivino introduced the guest speaker. The "Bosses" were presented, and the Jaycees and their guests read the "Jaycee Creed."

Past Presidents Honored

Special recognition was given to eight past presidents, Roy Yeager, Matt Melitschka, Ed Maruca, Wilbur Schnurrenberger, William Lewis, Jack Rance, George Equizi, Jim Hicks and Wells Vaughters. Melitschka, Maruca and Equizi also were recognized as Junior Chamber International Senators, and Yeager, Wes Houser and Vaughters as life members, while honors also went to holders of three Distinguished Service Awards, Rance, Hicks, formerly of Ashland chapter, and Vaughters, a former member of Portsmouth chapter.

No Special Service Award

Donald DeJana, chairman of the Distinguished Service Awards committee, announced that the judges, who reviewed the accomplishments listed for the seven entries for the honor, felt that none had been active enough to qualify for the award.

DeJana said that the judges' refusal to name an award winner, should spur young men in the group eligible to apply for the award, those between the ages of 21 and 35, to heighten their interest and activity in community affairs.

Ohio President Rayment commended the chapter on its high standards of qualifications for the awards honor and also on the exceptional service of chapter members. He said that if all the 183 chapters in Ohio were as active in civic affairs as the Salem Chapter, that Ohio would lead the nation in Jaycee accomplishments.

Co-chairmen for the meeting were G. Gary Moffett and Vivino.

Republicans to Meet Here Friday Night

The Salem Republican party will hold a reorganizational meeting Friday night at 7 in the Memorial Building.

Plans will be considered for a permanent men's organization, it was announced by E. U. Whitacre, county GOP chairman who is acting as temporary chairman of the local meeting.

The Hawaiian island of Molokai is called the "Friendly Isle."

Deaths and Funerals

in charge of the Cleveland office, said Koury was employed at the Canton plant of the Ford Motor Co. but reportedly had been furloughed. Koury is married and has four children.

He was sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory in 1942 for breaking and entering but later was permitted to enlist in the Army and was granted a conditional pardon in 1947, apparently as a reward for his war service.

Hargett said the arrest resulted from intensive investigation of the activities of three other men who have been charged with bank robbery.

One of the three, he said, is Thomas Georgalas, 26, of Warren who Wednesday was convicted of participating in the Aug. 11, 1960, holdup of the Cornersburg office of the Mahoning National Bank. Hargett identified the other two men as Frank Anzur, 34, of Youngstown, and George Kousale of Canton.

Anzur pleaded guilty of taking part in the Cornersburg holdup and has been charged, along with Kousale, in the Jan. 24, 1959, holdup of the Country Fair branch of the Citizens Savings Association in Canton.

Kousale also is charged with the April 3, 1959 robbery of the Akron Savings & Loan Co.'s South Arlington Plaza branch.

Perry said he decided to surrender because he got tired of running and knew the FBI would capture him eventually. Mason told a reporter. He said he staged the holdup to get money to support his family.

Perry told F. B. I. agents he and his wife had been in Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Kentucky.

Alliance Man Cited After Traffic Crash

Virgil G. Martin, 31, of Alliance, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after his car collided with a truck, operated by David M. Rober, 47, of Ligonier, Ind., at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday on Rt. 62, two miles east of Alliance.

The State Highway Patrol said Martin was coming off Johnson Rd when his car skidded on the ice into the path of the truck which was headed west on Rt. 62.

Kennet Umstead

Kennet Thomas Umstead, 66, of P. Lake Road, Perry Township, died suddenly at the Central Clinic at 12:30 a.m. today, following surgery one week ago.

Born in Goshen Township, Mahoning County, July 18, 1894, he was a son of Morris and Ida Hinchman Umstead.

He was married to Ardith Mathey at Wellsburg, W. Va. Sept. 6, 1937. A painter, he had lived in this vicinity all his life.

hazardous driving conditions. Schools in much of the Georgia storm belt, including those in Atlanta, were closed. Traffic also was halted on many roads in northern Alabama.

The ice storms, which broke out in Texas earlier this week, were blamed for at least eight deaths, including seven in Texas and one in Georgia.

North of the ice belt, snow and snow flurries fell in the central and Upper Mississippi Valley, the Upper Great Lakes region, the central and northern Plains, the eastern Great Lakes and the northern Rockies. Light snow and freezing drizzle was reported in eastern Washington and Oregon.

Meanwhile, not much relief was expected immediately from the bitter cold in the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The Weather Bureau forecast colder weather in the Upper Mississippi Valley and parts of the northern and west central Plains, areas hit by temperatures of more than 30 degrees below this week.

Some moderation was indicated in parts of Texas and the eastern Gulf as well as in the lower and eastern Upper Great Lakes.

But the cold air this morning again dipped deep into the South, with the 30s and lower reported in the Rio Grande Valley, along the Gulf Coast to western Florida and southern Georgia and along the Carolina coast. Warmest weather was in southern Florida, with 70 reported in Miami and Key West.

clarify the present law on bigamy. A loophole in the statute now permits a man or woman to marry a second mate in another state and live with the new spouse in Ohio without being guilty of bigamy, Sargus said. His bill would eliminate that oversight.

Carney and Sen. Stephen R. Olmick, D-Youngstown, co-sponsored a resolution urging a constitutional amendment providing for the election of national political convention delegates by states instead of by individual candidates, as they now are.

In the house, Rep. William J. Carney, D-Youngstown, sponsored three measures.

One would amend an agreement between Pennsylvania and Ohio governing the development of Pymatuning Lake.

Another would exempt from real estate taxes property both inside and outside municipalities which is to be used for public highways.

The third would provide a fine of $25 to $100 or 30 days to 6 months in jail or both for impersonating state or federal health officers.

Rep. G. D. Tablack, D-Struthers, sponsored an administration bill governing certain records in the governor's office. He said the bill would only give statutory authorization for records which have been kept for some time.

Rep. Thomas J. Barrett, D-Youngstown, reintroduced a bill to establish the maximum 56-hour week for firemen. The measure was passed last year but was vetoed by the governor.

Try Showing Off---With Little Effort

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you like to cook a few interesting meals for your family, in a nonchalant way, over the week end? To try something new, but simple to prepare, for Saturday lunch or Sunday supper?

Then choose a recipe with show-off abilities that needs no great production.

An American version of the German pfannkuchen, or pancake, is one of these. In its original version it's fried, dinner-plate size, in a large skillet and served with confectioners' sugar and lemon juice. To prepare it in streamlined fashion, make up the simple batter and bake the pancakes in small pie plates. This way they don't have to be turned or watched. No worrying, either, whether the skillet is just the right heat.

Instead of sugar and lemon juice, you can serve the pancakes with a sauce that's a delectable combination of honey, orange, lemon, fresh dates and butter.

If you'd like the pancakes and sauce to take dessert honors, serve a chowder or chef's salad first. But if you prefer a one-course meal, offer the pancakes and their sauce with crisp bacon or good little browned pork sausages plus cottage cheese.

Oven Pancakes
1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup milk
Sift the flour and salt. Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites beat in milk enough whisk in flour until smooth. Butter 6 individual pie plates (about 5 inches across) generously. Divide batter among plates they should be half full. Bake in extremely hot (500 degrees) oven 5 minutes reduce heat to very hot (450 degrees) and continue baking 10 minutes longer or until edges are golden brown. Serve at once in pie plates.

Date Orange Sauce
½ cup honey, grated rind of 1 orange, ½ cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter, ¾ cup fresh dates.
Heat together gently, stirring occasionally, all ingredients except dates. Pit and quarter dates. Makes 2 cups.

Mushroom Burgers

1 pound ground chuck beef, 1 can (3 ounces) whole mushrooms, 1 table poon butter, 1 small onion (cut in thin strips) 1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy, salt and pepper.

Make 8 flat patties of the beef and drain mushrooms. Put patties 2 mushrooms in each for filling, to make 4 hamburgers; reserve rest of mushrooms.

Brown patties in butter in hot skillet; remove.

Brown onion in drippings in skillet; add reserved mushrooms and mushroom gravy; stir and heat.

Add patties and reheat, cooking to desired doneness and sprinkling meat with salt and pepper. Makes 4 servings.

Brussels Sprouts

1 package (10 ounces) frozen brussels sprouts, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ cup blanched sliced almonds, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Cook sprouts according to package directions; drain. Meanwhile lightly brown almonds in melted butter, stirring almost constantly, in small skillet add to sprouts with lemon juice, mixing well. Makes 3 servings.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Pour heated paraffin on your shovel before removing snow from the sidewalk. The hardened paraffin serves as a smooth base from which the snow slides off easily.

To decorate mincepie for the holidays, cut a star opening in the center and place small red candles in each point so that each wedge will have one.

Scalloped potatoes and ham make a delicious old-fashioned dish, but for that "different" touch add layers of shredded green cabbage to the combination.

Try 'First Lady' Cake

An engraved invitation to tea at the White House is always big news in the social life of Washington. Shortly, the tradition of elegant afternoon tea in the presidential mansion, begun by Dolly Madison, will be continued by the new and gracious First Lady.

We asked Miss Letitia K. Baldridge, who is to be Mrs. Kennedy's social secretary, what the new First Lady will serve at tea. But Miss Baldridge said she will not know for a few weeks. Then, she promised, she will give this column an exclusive report.

Prepare Cherry Cake Mix according to package directions. Pour batter into two well-greased and floured 8-inch layer cake pans.

Bake in preheated 350-degree F. oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool 10 minutes in pans. Turn out on wire racks. Cool thoroughly.

Frosting
1½ cups sugar ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ cup water, 2 egg whites 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1-3 cup heated, strained cherry preserve.

Combine all ingredients except cherry preserve and vanilla in the top of a double boiler and place over hot water.

Beat until frosting will stand in peaks (about 7 minutes). Remove from heat. Add vanilla and continue to beat.

Filling
½ cup frosting, 1-3 cup chopped maraschino cherries, 1-3 cup chopped raisins, 1-3 cup chopped pecans.

Mix ½ cup frosting, cherries, raisins and nuts until well blended. Spread between cake layers. Frost entire cake with remaining frosting. Decorate top with "cherry wells" of 1-3 cup heated, strained cherry preserve.

Chili Con Carne Has New Flavor

Most people know a lot of ways to handle chopped meat. And most of these people know that making chili is one of the best, possible ways.

It is, that is, if the result is the best possible chili.

Here is a new recipe for chili con carne that has a magic ingredient that makes it without doubt a chili to cheer.

The difference is two tablespoons of aromatic bitters. It is useful to flavor many dishes and this is one of the best.

1 medium onion chopped, 1 clove garlic, finely minced, ¼ lb. butter, 1½ lbs. chopped meat, 2½ cups canned kidney beans, 1 16-oz. can tomatoes 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon chili powder (more less to taste), 2 tablespoons aromatic bitters.

Saute onion and garlic in butter. Add meat and brown. Place in large pan, add kidney beans and liquid, tomatoes and liquid, tomato sauce, flour, salt hill powder aromatic bitters and mix well. Simmer over low heat 20 minutes stirring occasionally. Add water or more tomato sauce if mixture gets too thick. Serves 6.

Puzzling Wellsville Cage Squad Challenges Salem Friday

Tigers Figured To Be Stronger

Have Tools But Only 4-4 Record

The Wellsville Tigers, Salem's cage opponent here Friday night, have proved to be the biggest puzzle in the area this season.

They have size, experience and a coach who has a reputation for winning, but still the Tigers haven't been able to do any better than break even in eight games.

In 6-4 Bob Kiggins the Tigers have a player who in a preseason poll of coaches, conducted by a nationally-circulated sports magazine, was rated as one of Ohio's top 10 cagers.

Kiggins, a senior, has been playing varsity ball since he was a freshman. Last year as a junior he averaged 17 points per game. The big boy is doing even better this season with a 19.5 average, second only to East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham in the county.

KIGGANS HAS SCORED in double figures in each of Wellsville's eight contests. His high was 34 against Freedom, Pa., in a fray the Tigers lost 63-62 in a big upset.

Besides Kiggins, Coach Jack McDevitt has one other regular back from last year's fine club which compiled a record of 15 wins against only five losses and was runner-up in its Sectional Class AA tournament. He is Phil Baldwin, 6-1, senior.

Although Baldwin is not a prolific scorer, he is a hustler and the Tigers' top defensive man. He is averaging nine points per game. The third leading scorer has been Ben Cannadate, quick-moving little guard who hits well from outside. He has an eight-point average. Cannadate saw considerable varsity last season.

ANOTHER BIG BOY, 6-5 Steve Baldwin, only a sophomore, has a seven-point average. Two other guards, Roger Ours and Wilbert Jones, are both averaging around five points per tilt.

Kiggins is the only man averaging in double figures. He is a hot-shot from anywhere on the court. Kiggins is also rated an excellent playmaker and rebounder. He scores consistently with a variety of sweeping hook shots or push shots from the side.

Wellsville's victories this season have come over Youngstown Wilson, 79-51; Lisbon, 67-37; Chester, W. Va., 45-33 and Toronto, 66-58. Besides losing to Freedom by one point, the Tigers have fallen before East Liverpool, 62-55; Steubenville Central, 57-51 and Youngstown Wilson, 65-63.

WELLSVILLE WILL GO into the game Friday with a 10-day rest. Their last loss to Wilson, after they had defeated the Youngstowners by 28 points in their opener, marked a new low in the Tigers' disappointing season.

Coach McDevitt is hopeful that the layoff may have helped his club to find itself. The Tigers will have to be hot to keep up with the Quakers Friday. Coach John Cabas' crew has copied nine of 11 games and currently is working on an eight-game streak.

A Cabas-coached Salem team has never lost to Wellsville. In fact, the Tigers haven't defeated the Quakers since the 1945-46 campaign. Last year the Quakers won a 62-58 thriller at Wellsville.

Officials for the game here Friday will be Mike Maro and Keith Laughlin.

The reserve tilt will get underway at 7:30 with the varsity battle slated for about 9 p.m.

Ken's Pete Baltic Top MAC Cage Star

A year ago Pete Baltic was an unknown on the Kent State cage team, but today he is the Mid-American Conference's top all-around cager.

The 6-4 lefthander not only increased his scoring leadership to a 22.4 in five games but in two games shot close to 58 per cent to take over leading spot in field goal accuracy with an overall 52.9 per cent. Larry Kruger, tied with Baltic last week, remained in second position.

Besides his floor shooting, the jump-shot artist moved into contention as a pretty fair free throw shooter, taking over second place behind Dave Zeller, Miami forward, who hit eight straight against Kent to raise his mark to 92.3 per cent.

Nate Thurmond, Bowling Green's rapidly improving pivotman, went ahead of the idle Bob Burgess of Marshall in rebounding. Both have 16.6 grabs per game but Thurmond has a slight edge in the percentage department.

Lisbon Nixes Hoople's Plan to Halt Streak

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Egad, friends, after a secret peek at the Lisbon High cage squad in practice this week Old Hoople's keen eye spotted a way for the Blue Devils to halt their 11-game losing streak right where it is, but the Board of Education vetoed by a very slim margin the Old Boy's plan to cancel the remaining seven games on the schedule.

Rebucked once again, Hoople took a short trip up to visit Coach Earle Bruce, his wife and baby in Sandusky, more or less to get away from it all. Earle is still interested in a college coaching job, so Hoople accompanied the former Quaker mentor to Columbus to see Woody about a job (for Earle that is. Hoople is already making too much on unemployment pay to give up that kind of money for anything as uncertain as coaching).

Woody wasn't able to make any promises but he did give Hoople and Earle a little preview of what the 1961 Buckeye cheerleaders and grid squad will look like.

Hoople reports that from what he observed on campus, both the players and the cheerleaders will be just like Woody prefers them — big up front and shifty in the backfield. Har-rumph!

With the exception of Greenford's overtime victory over Vienna, we scored a hundred per cent on our predictions Tuesday. In fact, we hit two scores right on the button and missed by one point on

Redlegs Sell Nuxhall to Athletics

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Nuxhall, the Hamilton native who made his first pitching appearance with the Cincinnati Reds when he was only 15 years old, has been sold to Kansas City of the American League.

Nuxhall, now 32, long has been regarded as a pitcher with great potential. But he never quite lived up to expectations after posting fine 12-5 and 17-12 records in 1954 and 1955.

Nuxhall, a southpaw, had only a 1-8 record last season, his ninth with the Reds.

Although the deal with the Athletics was announced as a sale the transaction also apparently involved some minor leaguers. The A's sold pitcher John Tsitouris, 24, to Indianapolis of the American Association, a Redleg farm affiliate, and they shipped pitcher John Briggs from the new Honolulu club of the Pacific Coast League to Indianapolis.

Briggs pitched for Cleveland and Kansas City last year with a 4-4 record in 29 appearances.

In the contract department, the Reds put the signed 1961 pact of six more players in the strong box today.

They came by mail from pitchers Bill Henry and Orlando Pena, catchers Hal Bevan and Jerry Zimmerman, shortstop Leo Cardenas and first baseman Rogelio Alvarez.

Henry, a veteran reliever had only a 1-5 record with the Reds last season but in his last 13 appearances he pitched in 25 innings with only a 1.80 earned run average. Pena has been with the Reds at various times previously and Cardenas hit .232 in 48 games with Cincinnati last season. Alvarez was called up from Jersey City on Sept. 12 and played in three games.

Bevan and Zimmerman will be newcomers with the Reds although Bevan is a 30-year-old veteran.

Larry Jansen and Wes Westrum, former New York Giant battery, will coach for the San Francisco Giants this year.

Vikings Stocking NFL Roster

Loop Wrestles With Scheduling Problems

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings today were busy stocking their new National Football League roster with 36 veterans while the league wrestled with its scheduling problems.

The Vikings had until noon to complete their selection of 36 veterans from the 96 made available by 12 other clubs (Dallas, the 1960 addition, excepted).

General Manager Bert Rose said he will announce the names in groups of six or nine as soon as the "old" clubs had a chance to notify the players. He estimated it would be midafternoon before he would have the first names.

Coach Norman Van Brocklin, talent scout Joe Thomas and Rose spent most of the night wrestling with the selections. They set up two blackboards in a hotel room, one for the names of offensive players, the other for the defensive men. First they put down the names of the 20 college rookies they had drafted and quarterback George Shaw, acquired from New York in a deal. Then they tried to sort out the best of the available men into balanced units.

Rose said the Vikings were building for the future and expected to emphasize youth with a sprinkling of veterans. "Our fans don't expect too much the first year," he said.

The league probably will settle for a 14-game schedule, an increase of two games over the 1960 chart. However, there is some sentiment for 13 games.

Davidson Is Still Big Man

Rebounding of Thorne, Beery Give Salem Lift

Salem High basketball statistics this week reveal that veteran Don Davidson may not have the 1960-61 rebounding title wrapped up after all.

Just as the Quakers' scoring attack has become more balanced in recent games, so has the rebounding.

Davidson jumped off to a big lead in rebounds early in the season, but "Big D" has been falling off a little while Ted Thorne, 6-5½ junior, and Bill Beery, 6-0½ sophomore, have more than taken up the slack.

DAVIDSON HAS BEEN playing farther out from the hoop on offense. The big senior has a good jump shot from outside and Coach John Cabas can afford to use him out there with Thorne and Beery rebounding like they have been. Davidson is in no immediate danger of losing his team scoring lead or his rebounding advantage. He has a 41-point edge over junior Bob Eskay in points scored and a margin of 36 rebounds over Thorne. Beery is just eight rebounds behind Thorne.

With his outstanding performance against Niles last week, Thorne was able to pad his field goal shooting percentage lead. He has canned 34 of 56 shots for a hot 60.7 per cent. The team average is a good 41.2 per cent.

THE TEAM'S BEST foul shooter has been John "Beano" Borrelli who has sent the ball through the hoop on 26 of 34 attempts from the free throw line for sizzling 76.5 per cent. The team average on fouls is 65.9 per cent.

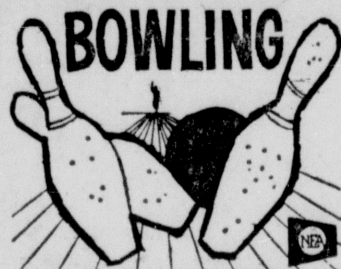

The Quakers will take an eight-game winning streak into Friday's game here against Wellsville. Salem hasn't been beaten on its home court since the season opener when Columbus East turned the trick, 65-63 in overtime. Here're Salem's statistics after 11 games

Salem 7th, 8th Grade Cagers Post Wins Over Stanton

Salem's 7th and 8th grade cage squads both came through with victories Wednesday over Alliance Stanton teams in tilts played in the Salem Junior High gym.

Chip Mosher banged home 17 points in leading the Quaker 8th graders to a 39-34 win — their fourth in nine games. Dick Will added nine points to the Salem attack and Jim Miller contributed five markers and seven important rebounds.

High point man for Alliance Stanton was Andrews with 11.

Coach Bob Martin's unbeaten Salem 7th graders made it nine in a row with an easy 42-9 decision over the Stanton 7th grade quintet. Chuck Alexander and Rick Klepper shared scoring honors for Salem with 19 points apiece. The same pair also led in rebounds with Klepper grabbing eight and Alexander seven.

Salem made 35 per cent of its shots from the field while the Stanton 7th graders connected on a poor 14 per cent.

The Quaker junior high teams will be in action again Friday at Canfield.

Penguins Schedule 5 New Foes for 1961 Grid Season

Youngstown University announced its 1961 football schedule with nine games slated, five new opponents and four returning from last year.

The Penguins open the season Sept. 21 facing Central Michigan at Rayen Stadium. Toledo's powerful Rockets move in the following week, the game billed for Saturday afternoon, Sept. 30.

In addition to Central Michigan, Albright (Reading, Pa.) Hillsdale (Hillsdale, Mich.), North Dakota U. (Grand Forks, N.D.), and Texas Lutheran (Seguin, Texas) round out the new opponents for the coming campaign. Only Central Michigan has ever played the locals before, that being in 1947 and 1948 with YU winning both games.

Road games are billed with Baldwin Wallace, Albright and Hillsdale. With the exception of the Toledo clash, all games will be played under the lights.

The Oct. 14 contest with Southern Connecticut State has been selected as the annual Homecoming game.

The game was a preliminary to the Cleveland-New York National Industrial Basketball League game. Cleveland won 90-81.

Findlay had little trouble in disposing of Fenn, leading the Foxes all the way. The losers Tony Fedor's 18 points was high for the night.

Brazil Nuts Glamorize Cakes and Wafers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Don't let a wafer scare you. Those thin, crisp members of the cookie family may look delicate, but they are not hard to make. Most of them belong to the drop-cookie clan.
Once you get wafer-conscious, you may start collecting some fascinating recipes. Sweden and Norway, for example, have their famous Krumkakes—thin crisp cones that are baked on a special iron, then rolled into shape. They're a combination of sugar, eggs, butter or cream and flour, and they're flavored with vanilla or cardamom.
England calls her well-known wafers Brandy Snaps. They're concocted of sugar, molasses, butter and flour, and flavored with brandy and ginger.
Denmark names one of her popular wafers a macaroon—these made with sugar, butter, eggs and nuts.

The following American wafer is a delicious cross between the English and Danish varieties. Chop the Brazil nuts called for in the recipe with a knife, but chop them fine. Or if you have a rotary-type grater, use it, making sure it has the proper blade for chopped nuts and doesn't grate them to a meal.
The ultimate destination of these wafers should be an old-fashioned afternoon tea! Their brittle texture will give pleasant texture contrast to other soft foods.
When Brazil nuts are in the kitchen you might also like to grind them fine and roll frosted cake squares in them. Or you with Brazil nut curls. To make this pretty garnish, simmer the shelled nuts in water for about 5 minutes, then slice thin lengthwise with a swivel-blade vegetable peeler.

Lacy Wafers
¾ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup dark molasses, ½ cup butter (melted) 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts.
Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into a mixing bowl. Add milk, molasses, butter and vanilla, stir in rolled oats and nuts.
Drop level teaspoons of the mixture, each 2 inches apart, on greased and floured cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 6 to 8 minutes.
Cool about 1 minute remove to wire rack. Makes about 8 dozen.

American Fliers Winging Home

Reds Free Airmen
In Goodwill Gesture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two American fliers were winging home today from a Soviet prison where they had been held for almost seven months.

The fliers, Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., and John R. McKone of Topeka, Kan., will have an ecstatic reunion about 4 p.m. today in Washington with their wives and families.

As an Air Force plane sped them across the Atlantic another was prepared to whisk both wives from Topeka. The men were based there before their overseas assignment that ended with the shooting down of their RB47 reconnaissance plane by a Soviet fighter last July.

"We never gave up hope," said both Mrs. Olmstead and Mrs. McKone Wednesday night. One was calm, the other fighting tears. "Connie, I'm so happy," said Mrs. Olmstead to Mrs. McKone weepingly. "I'm still completely dry," said Mrs. McKone with a grin.

The two women had gotten the word that their husbands were freed just five minutes before President Kennedy announced it during his televised news conference. The President telephoned Mrs. McKone after the conference and she said he told her how happy he was that the fliers had been freed.

There was the same kind of overwhelming joy in Elmira, where Olmstead's parents got the news "like a bombshell out of the blue" as they watched Kennedy on TV.

"We simply broke down in tears," said the father. "It is the most marvelous birthday that I have ever had." He is 64 today. But there was bitterness and grief in the Topeka home of Mrs. Oscar L. Goforth, wife of one of the plane's three crewmen who are still missing and presumed dead.

Mrs. Goforth told newsmen, "If my husband is dead, I will always blame President Eisenhower. If he had handled things differently my husband would not be where he is—wherever he is."

She said she had sent a telegram and a letter to Eisenhower, asking more information about her husband's fate, but received no answer.

Mrs. Goforth said she has never given up hope that her husband is alive and now hopes to get a first hand account of the shooting down of the plane from Olmstead and McKone. "I am in a state of suspense," she said. "It's terrible."

The body of a fourth victim, pilot Willard B. Palm of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was found by the Soviets, they said, floating in a rubber life raft the icy Barents Sea. Palm's body was returned and he was buried with honors at Arlington National Cemetery.

Palm's widow had a different reaction. "I am so happy to hear the news," she said. "I hope you can find out a lot of things—the truth—and just what happened to the other boys."

When a reporter expressed regret that Mrs. Palm's husband could not return too, she said, "I'm sorry too. I certainly hope that God in his wisdom knows best."

The six-jet RB47 was shot down last July 1. Olmstead and McKone parachuted to safety, though Olmstead received a serious back injury. Of the others, only Palm's body was returned.

The missing men are Capt. Eugene E. Posa, 33, of Santa Monica, Calif., 1st Lt. Dean B. Phillips, 25, of Inwood, N.Y., and 1st Lt. Goforth.

Columbiana Mothers Plan Annual Fund Canvass Tonight

COLUMBIANA — Women will brave the winter weather tonight to make a house-to-house canvass of the Columbiana area in quest of donations for the National Foundation in its fight against crippling diseases.

Mrs. Anna Bell Chambers, projects chairman for the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club which is heading up the solicitation for the third year, said weather hasn't yet stopped the canvass. Last year, the women made their rounds in a downpour.

Mrs. Chambers urged residents to turn on their porlights this evening to aid the canvassers. Workers will gather after the canvass for light refreshments and a report meeting at the home of Mrs. Florence Campbell, Welcome Wagon hostess. Proceeds will be turned over immediately to James Magill, local campaign chairman.

TRACY C. POWELL, treasurer of the Columbiana Community Fund, announced today that checks for the full amounts of requests will be distributed to the six agencies participating in the fund.

He said directors have voted to use a small reserve, developed many years ago, to meet the $1,600 deficit in the 1960 campaign because it was the third year in a row that the campaign had failed to reach its quota. The 1960 goal was $7,100.

The distribution will be as follows: Boy Scouts, $2,400; Girl Scouts, $1,300; Salem City Hospital and School of Practical Nursing, $1,750; Salem Central Clinic, $750; Salvation Army, $500, and local relief, $400.

Powell also announced the directors have voted to cooperate fully with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its announced program of establishing a United Fund in the community. The United Fund would supersede the Community Fund and the several other separate fund drives conducted here annually.
